What's New In?

New MySQL server information: You can now get information about the server, such as server health and uptime, and the MySQL version that is running on the server. See what the main difference is between the Enterprise MySQL 5.0.51 server and the Enterprise MySQL 5.0.61 server. Optimized: Several components of the administrator have been improved. For example, the MySQL Query Browser now displays cache size in query results, and you can now browse version history. MySQL Query Browser: With MySQL Query Browser, you can run SQL code in MySQL Query Editor in the same window, even if you don't have a MySQL connection, just like a SQL compiler. Run a query and it is displayed in the results pane, as well as the execution plan, which can be copied into a file and pasted into the Query Editor for execution. Search: Search functions have been added. Docker: The MySQL Administrator server works in conjunction with the Docker hypervisor to ensure that the MySQL Administrator server is installed on all the servers that require monitoring. Upgraded: The Oracle MySQL Administrator server can now connect to a MySQL 5.6 server running on a Linux OS. System tray monitor: You can now start and stop the server from the system tray icon. New features: You can now see which users are connected to which servers in the Server Information panel. General: The Query Browser has been improved to allow you to run more complex queries. MySQL 5.6: MySQL Administrator now supports the new MySQL 5.6 features. Gentex Income Fund, Inc. (GTFNX) issued a press release announcing that the company had entered into an agreement with Spruj Group (GSLP) to provide security solutions and services for Spruj's National Branch Network. According to the press release, "Under the terms of the agreement, Spruj will use its nationwide network of field offices to provide complete multi-agency risk response services to the entities and their clients that are managed by GTFNX. This will include the protection of citizens and visitors to these centers during periods of crisis." In addition, the Spruj Group will provide GTFNX with in-house operational support for an increased number of GTFNX locations. GTFNX also announced in the press release that it had previously entered into an agreement with the Spruj Group to secure customers at the close of business, October 1
